

Tools

Today we have different cloud tools, like Microsoft 365, Google and Dropbox and whatever. If you are working in different organisations they are using, of course different tools. It is bloody pain in the a... to use all of them. For example Microsoft is totally unusable. Google works ok, Dropbox is so so. The key point is that why markets are not working here? Free markets should kill Microsoft 365.

The logic behind Google's services are healthy, they are following their customers and the price is correct. They are having nice earning logic compared to Microsoft.

I tried yesterday to send a group email by Microsoft 365 outlook and it took 2 hours and I'm not sure did it go out. Bloody hell.
